MINE UNIONS ARE ENJOINED FROM ORGANIZING FIELDS

The Check Off System Kill- ed by Injunction of U. S. Judge.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 31.—A sweeping injunction barring the United Mine Workers of America from spreading unionism in West Virginia and practically killing the so-called "check off" system in the central competitive fields comprising the bituminous coal districts of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania, was issued by Judge A. B. Anderson in the United States district court here today.

The injunction applies to virtually all Indiana operators using the "check off" system by which operators collect miners' union dues.

The decree, which union leaders have declared is a body-blow to organized labor, will embarrass, but not destroy, the mine operators' organization, officials of the United Mine Workers declared.

Judge Anderson's action was taken in the suit of the Borden Coal Co., representing sixty-two other concerns operating in the Mingo county field of West Virginia, in which the injunction to abolish the check off system and to prevent interference by the United Mine workers with the operation of mines in that field was asked.

Declaration that he would issue the injunction, was made by Judge Anderson after John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers refused to agree to suspend efforts to unionize that field. The court expressed the belief that combination in restraint of trade, violation of the Sherman anti-trust act, to limit the production of coal and to interfere with interstate commerce from West Virginia, had been established and that the efforts to unionize the West Virginia mines is an effort to monopolize the coal industry of the United States.

Fred M. Vinson Makes a Statement

the Voters of Lawrence County:—
For the first time in my life I come as a candidate for office. I have had the same manner and the same attitude toward the people during my entire life. I have had the same candor as I had prior thereto and to be the same individual as I was at the time I was elected. I leave it to you to decide, throughout my entire life, I have treated the people kindly, fairly, I have never been in a hurry to give words of comfort to the people whom I have always tried to be honest and fair with the people. I have never mistreated or abused anyone. I have never been in a hurry to set in such manner, and consequently it has been a pleasure for me to refrain from such treatment.

ask you, my friends, to weigh Mr. Vinson and myself in the balance and to vote for the man who is present to do the work you are doing for me. I ask you to weigh us according to our legal ability, according to our personal character, and according to our manner and treatment of people. If weighed in these scales Mr. Vinson should receive your support as more worthy. I must cheerfully accept the result, but if on the other hand you should determine that I am the man, I will accept your support and will strive with all the power given to me to make you feel that of whom you will not be deceived and for whose election you have no regret. My platform in this campaign is the only promise I make, to square deal to all, regardless of politics or religious creed.

do not forget the boy, the man whom you have known for do not forget his kindness and his devotion and do not be misled by vote because of some election promise or statement, which, judgment by the past, Mr. Vinson can tell.

My friends, both Democrats and Republicans, for their work in this election, which assures me of my support, as I have always been, your friend,

Mr. Vinson

A Louisa Girl's Engagement Announced

The following interesting article appeared in the Ashland Daily Independent on October 30:

On Saturday afternoon at her home at Chestnut Place, Mrs. T. J. Kentner invited in for tea at four o'clock a few of her friends and also acquaintances of Miss Rebecca Garred. The tea was given in honor of Miss Garred, whose engagement to Dr. Frederick Kellum Blair of Ashland was announced on this occasion. Miss Garred, whose home is in Louisa has been at the home of Mrs. Kentner during her stay here, where she has been teaching in one of our city schools. Miss Garred was becomingly attired in a very attractive soft creation, and wore a wonderful corsage of red roses and Valley Lilies. The cards announcing the engagement, were attached to lovely red rose buds, that were presented to each guest. The wedding is to be a very early one, in December. Mrs. Kentner served her guests with the usual delightful refreshments.

The following are the guests who attended:

Misses Luelle Ginn, Maud Kitchen, Olive Jones, Maud Meredith, Charlotte Kitchen, Bernard Garred, Mrs. Harold Vansant, Mrs. James King, Mrs. B. C. Crow, Mrs. O. M. Blum, Mrs. Vogel Gietter, Mrs. Edgar Whipple, Mrs. Charles Wright, Mrs. A. B. Whit.

After the announcement party on Saturday afternoon given by Mrs. T. J. Kentner in honor of Miss Rebecca Garred the bride to be, Dr. Blair entertained a party of friends in the dining room with an evening at the theatre. Those invited to be in the party were Miss Rebecca Garred, Miss Bernard Garred, Mrs. A. D. Whit, a sister of Dr. Blair, Mrs. T. J. Kentner, Dr. Lyons and Dr. Blair.

Miss Garred is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Garred. She is well known in this vicinity, having attended school here for several years during which time her amiable disposition and charming personality made her many friends who extend their sincerest congratulations and best wishes to both bride and groom elect.

RAILROAD STRIKE WAS CALLED OFF

Public Sentiment Caused Strikers to Drop the Effort.

On October 27 the railroad men's organization called off the strike ordered for the 30th.

One of the high officials of the brotherhood said public sentiment was against the strike and therefore they could not win. Also, he said the United States Railroad Labor Board told us that it would look on a strike as against it and the government and not against the roads, and that the full force of the government would be brought to bear against us if we walked out. Under such circumstances there was nothing to do but annul our orders for the October 30 without.

BROTHER KILLS BROTHER IN BOYD

Greeley Runyon, 27, a farmer of Hatfield station, near Catlettsburg, was shot and almost instantly killed at 11 a. m. today by his brother, Ransom Runyon, following a quarrel which resulted from Greeley's pushing an automobile over Ransom while the latter was doing home work on it.

Ransom was said to be repairing an automobile near Greeley Runyon's home when Greeley pushed the car over Ransom. When Ransom resented the act, which was attributed to the report that Greeley had been drinking, Ransom struck Greeley with a sled standard. After a tussle, Ransom departed for his home, telling Greeley not to follow him.

Greeley insisted, however, on following and when the latter insisted on entering Ransom's home against the protests of both Ransom and his wife, Ransom went inside and obtained a .38 calibre revolver and shot Greeley through the head. He died on the front porch of the home.

Ransom then remained at his home while others notified the authorities in Catlettsburg. Ransom did not resist arrest but went peacefully with the officers to the jail.

The Runyons are members of a well known and respected family in the section of Hatfield station, just outside the city limits of Catlettsburg and on the Big Sandy division of the Chesapeake & Ohio railway. Joe Runyon, a farmer, is the father of the two young men.

Greeley Runyon was married but had no children. Ransom is married and has two children.—Ashland Independent.

Ransom Runyon was tried before County Judge Watson Monday afternoon and was acquitted of the charge. A case of self defense was clearly proven by the parents of the dead man and of the defendant who returned home with his parents.

ABSENT VOTERS' LAW IS INVALID

Appeals Court Decision May Determine Results In Close Counties.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 1.—The Absent Voters Law, enacted in 1918, is unconstitutional, beyond the hope of restoration except by a Constitutional amendment, Judge Sampson of the Court of Appeals held today and the whole court concurred.

But the provision of the statute, permitting the registration of absentees in advance, since registration is a purely legislative subject, not mentioned by the Constitution.

State employees at Frankfort and Federal employees at Washington, as well as traveling men, soldiers and sailors, will have to go home to vote, and all the hundreds of votes sent by mail to county clerks to be cast in the election next Tuesday will have to be destroyed. The decision may determine the result in some close counties and districts.

Absentees could not vote in municipal elections, anyway, although with the municipal tickets, printed on the general ballots mailed them, it was a question how the straight votes of absentees could be kept out of them.

Decision in Municipal Case.

It was this municipal election problem that brought about the decision. W. E. Clark, independent candidate for Police Judge, and Green R. Lyon, Republican candidate for Mayor, filed suit to require the County Clerk to print the municipal ticket on a separate ballot. The practical purpose sought was to divorce the Democratic municipal ticket from the straight party ballots; but the ground urged was that the clear implication of the Absent Voters Law was that there should be separate municipal and county ballots.

They lost on their main contention, as both Circuit Judge Robert L. E. Stat and the Court of Appeals decided against them. A. Clark was debarred from the ticket entirely because his petition, filed with the County Clerk, was defective. This leaves Police Judge W. C. Herndon, Democratic candidate, without opposition.

Section 147 of the Constitution, on which the Absent Voters Law was wrecked, provides that "All elections by the people shall be by secret official ballot, furnished by public authority to voters at the polls and marked by each voter in private at the polls and then and there deposited."

The Court's Viewpoint.

In view of the ambiguous language of the organic law, the Court announced the obvious conclusion that the ballot "cannot be furnished by public authority to the voters at the polls and marked by each voter at the polls if it is mailed to him at some address outside the county where the election is being held. Our lawmaking body overlooked this provision of the Constitution," the Court continued, "when it undertook to and did pass the Absent Voters Law."

"It was in the nature of an emergency act. The great World War was on and thousands of our boys were at the front performing a patriotic as well as a sacred duty to the State and nation, and it not only was thought wise but nothing more than simple justice that these defenders of the flag, who were forced to remain at the front in defense of civilization should have a voice in the conduct of political affairs at home."

FEDERAL AID ROAD BILL AGREED ON

Washington, Oct. 28.—The deadlock between Senate and House conferees on the $75,000,000 bill for Federal aid in road building was broken to-day when the latter, under authority given by a special House rule yielded to the Senate demand for a straight appropriation to continue Federal aid to the States as a substitute for the House provision merely for an authorization of funds. Other road legislation was left unchanged and immediate enactment of the bill was generally conceded.

P. M. AT GARRETT SHOOT A MAN

Self Defense Claimed by Jay A. Vinson, Who Fired the Shots.

At Garrett, Floyd county, last Saturday evening, Jay A. Vinson shot Frank Hughes, inflicting severe wounds which may prove fatal. One shot took effect in the abdomen, the ball entering just above the hip. The other bullet broke the shoulder or collar bone, we do not know which. Hughes returned the fire, but without effect. He was taken to a hospital at Paintsville and was still living last report. Mr. Vinson went to Prestonsburg and surrendered, giving bond in the sum of $500.

Mr. Vinson is postmaster at Garrett. Hughes was in the room at the time the mail was being closed to dispatch by the train. He is said to have been drinking and in an ugly mood, and raised a disturbance with the postmaster because he refused to take a drink of moonshine. His reputation is reported to be that of a dangerous man. Mr. Vinson lost no time in getting the drop on him, and while covering him he asked the hy-standers to take hold of Hughes and prevent him from drawing a pistol. Also, Mr. Vinson was declaring that he did not want to shoot. When an effort was made to take hold of Hughes it is said he drew a pistol and the shooting started immediately. Vinson claims self defense.

Mr. Vinson is a native of Louisa and has never been in trouble of this kind before. He was Police Judge at Garrett for awhile. His brother, G. R. Vinson, met him at Prestonsburg Saturday night.

Five grown sons and daughters survive and all were present at the funeral. Mr. Lakin was a good citizen.

FROM D. M. CURNUTTE.

I am a candidate for Tax Commissioner of Lawrence county and I want a chance to serve in that important office.

I refer you to my neighbors and all who know me personally as to my character and qualifications and I shall certainly appreciate the support that is given me. I need it and will be very grateful.

A Boost For G. W. Castle For County Atty.

I am a republican and I want to speak to the voters on a subject vital to us for the next four years. Uncle Geo. Castle is well known throughout the county and a man of wider experience in county affairs than any other man in the county, a man of high integrity, perseverance and courage, a man who will guard the people's rights and make our money go farther to create good roads and conveniences for the people than any other man in Lawrence county.

No man in all Lawrence county stands closer to the taxpayers than he does. Go to his office for advice, sound advice and you get it free as water. Help us all, yes always helping someone. Look how he set free five hundred indicted for failing to license dogs.

Now, Uncle George needs the office of County Attorney. The people owe it to him and they never refuse to respond to a true friend, so let us all without regard to party, rally to his support and show him we appreciate his kindness. ## A Review of the Work of the Present City Administration

Since there is near at hand a city election for the selection of a Mayor and City Council for the city of Louisa, and since the present Mayor and the old City Council who have served the city so faithfully and efficiently during the last four years, are again candidates to succeed themselves in office, and since the present administration has been wantonly criticized, in one or two instances publicly, which criticism is without foundation in fact, it seems in order to call the attention of the public to the nature of the services rendered and the sacrifices made by the present Mayor and City Council in accomplishment of the real achievements incident to their efforts to serve the people of Louisa for the public benefit generally.

About the first duty of the present administration was to make a fair and just settlement of the city's obligations to others, including public utility and former city employees. This involved claims amounting to about $5300.00 against the city, hanging over from former administrations. In this settlement, which required not only firm but business-like procedure, it was determined in and out of court that the city owed in such instances as mentioned only about $65.00, a saving to the city of an amount exceeding $5200.00 which otherwise would have gone from the public treasury. About the next step was paying off the old debt of about $1100.00 against the city hall property. The next procedure was the establishment of the financial basis of the city, whereby public improvements, long needed, could be effectively made. This involved the street paving, acquisition and construction of the necessary storm sewerage and sanitary sewerage incident to the practical needs of the city previous to constructing the pavements. In the accomplishment of this improvement which involved the expenditure by the people and city of something like $200,000 it required the best thought and unlimited sacrifice of time and effort by the present administration, which sacrificed time and energy was taken with no recompense, were so much needed in the conduct of their own private affairs. In the course of this public improvement the present city administration, by its firmness of purpose and unlimited effort saved the city and the citizens of Louisa a sum approximately $90,000.00 which means that they have made the public improvements and acquisitions for the city and its citizens for approximately $90,000.00 less than the prevailing price at that time, including other savings, as estimated by some of the most competent business men in the State of Kentucky. Anyone who wants to know the items comprising this $90,000 can get them by applying to the chairman of the Street Improvement Committee.

The tax rate was reduced from 75 to 50c and kept at that until the past year when it was put back to the old figure.

This economical procedure and saving for the people of our neat little city is not only an achievement and a monument to the present administration which accomplished it practically without recompense for the great amount of time and energy required, but it is a measure, without doubt, the power of the citizens of Louisa, both individually and collectively to judge and appreciate just from unjust, right from wrong. Economical, substantial and necessary improvements which brought our delightful and prosperous little city, the Queen City of the Big Sandy Valley, out of the mud and the mire which had, up to this time, kept us a quarter of a century behind other similar but progressive neighboring towns. Now if the experience, honesty, energy and success and accomplishment find room for consideration and appreciation in the minds and judgments of the citizens of our town then each will know his duty and manner of expression when he goes to the polls to vote on November 8, 1921. If virtue is without consideration then he who so decides has the field before him to announce either publicly or privately the nature of his conscience.

The only inducements that prompt the present Mayor and City Council to neglect their own private affairs at this great individual loss to themselves, and to offer to succeed themselves is to complete the unfinished public improvements, including the necessary annual financing, in the most economical and satisfactory manner to the public good, which can best be accomplished by experienced officials, which experience should be duly appreciated and its unestimable value to the public considered by any and all public spirited citizens who have becoming pride in our city's welfare, and especially by a property owner and taxpayer.

A LOUISA CITIZEN.

IN MEMORY

In memory of our dear cousin, Jas. Ball, who was accidentally shot and killed by Mrs. Sophia Church Saturday night, October 8, when she playfully pointed a gun at him.

The weapon was accidentally discharged, it is said, and his death was almost instantaneous.

James was 21 years of age and was an unusually bright and cheerful boy always wearing a smile and ready with a kindly greeting for every friend and neighbor.

He leaves father, mother and brother, seven sisters and a host of relatives and friends to mourn his death. He always had a kind word for everybody and was greatly loved and respected by all who knew him and his death is sadly regretted.

We know he is safe in the arms of our Saviour. He was laid in the tomb until the judgment day. Father and mother, do not weep, for James is waiting for you on the other shore. He is not dead but sleeping.

He will be missed in many ways as a kind and loving son and brother. We will miss him everywhere we go. His place is vacant and never can be filled.

We cannot call him back and would not if we could for God had a better place for him than we did. He just lived 30 minutes after the shot struck him but was conscious to the last and realized he was passing into eternity.

He left no testimony but the Lord said we could all be changed in the twinkling of an eye and we hope that in the last moments of his life he made a change for a better world.

He is gone where there will be no more good byes. The silver cord is loosened, the golden band is broken in the family forever. But if we all live as the Lord wants us to live, we will all meet James again in a better world where there will be no parting or saying good bye, but shall all be together forever.

We extend our sympathy to the bereaved family.

Funeral services were conducted at Tyree chapel by Rev. J. H. Cleveland on Monday at 10 o'clock. Beautiful hymns were sung by the Tyree choir, but his place was vacant in the choir. His body was laid to rest in the family graveyard on Brushy Fork.

A LOVING FRIEND.

THAT DULL ACHING

Don't worry and complain about a bad back. Get rid of it! For weak kidneys, lame and aching backs, your neighbors recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor! Read this statement.

W. E. Wiley, farmer, Box 56, Whitehouse, Ky., says: Doan's Kidney Pills are certainly all right, for I have treated with them on different occasions, and they always relieve me. My back at times, has ached for quite a spell and there would be a dull kind of ache right across the center of my back. Many a day I had to give up my work on the farm and lame I would have to go about with a cane. I also had blinding dizzy spells and things appeared dark in front of me. My kidneys were irregular in action, the secretions would pass too frequently; then again would be scanty and painful. I tried most everything I heard of for relief, but Doan's Kidney Pills were the only remedy I ever found to reach my case. After using two boxes I was cured and put in good shape for work. I couldn't recommend a better remedy for kidney trouble than Doan's Kidney Pills.

Marshal Foch, of France, was given a great reception when he arrived in New York a few days ago. He will attend the disarmament conference to be held in Washington.

Dr. J. D. Whiteaker, of Morgan county, State Senator who is making the race for re-election, established himself as one of the most substantial, conscientious and valuable members of Kentucky's State Senate during his service of two sessions at Frankfort. The people of that district would make a fatal mistake if they failed to return him to the Senate.

About 1905 Dr. W. M. Salisbury was elected Mayor of Ashland. The city had no street paving whatever. He tackled the big problem of paving those miles of wide streets, and with characteristic energy drove the great enterprise through. He received the usual amount of opposition and condemnation. The sleepy old town was shocked and the dry bones rattled and squeaked; but this resulted in the inevitable awakening. She stretched herself, yawned a few times, got her eyes wide open, sat up and looked around in a dazed sort of way. She found herself beautifully dressed up. The town had been lifted out of the mud in spite of herself through the efforts of one vigorous, heroic and courageous man, assisted by a majority of the city council.

Did the outraged citizens who blindly fought the enterprise tear up the streets and hurl the bricks at Salisbury? They did not. After a season they cooled off, turned around, and joined in the chorus which runs, "Ashland is the Best Paved Town in the World, hooray," etc.

And it has come to pass that Dr. Salisbury again is chosen to be the Mayor of Ashland, after the "sober second thought" of these years. He has lived to receive the credit for his great piece of work, which oftentimes is withheld by a fickle public until death has softened the prejudices.

PLATFORM OF MERIDETH B. SPARKS, CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY JUDGE

To the Voters of Lawrence County:

In asking for your support for this important office I believe you are entitled to know what I stand for, so I offer the following brief statement:

If elected I will use the same diligence and judgment in handling the county's affairs that my own business has always received.

I will do all in my power to build and maintain good roads for all sections of Lawrence county.

I favor expending on the roads in each magisterial district as much money as it pays into the road fund, and also a proportionate part of the excess paid by the Louisa districts. (The Louisa districts pay about one-half of the entire road and bridge fund)

I favor dividing roads into short sections, 2, 3 or 4 miles each, and letting contracts at public outcry to farmers to keep them in condition, thus insuring constant care.

If elected I shall serve all sections and all people alike, regardless of location, politics or personal relations. In other words, I will serve the whole county impartially.

I favor repeal of the six-day road working law, as I believe a patrol system will take care of the roads better. This repeal can only be done by the Legislature.

I will fight extravagance and will let the people know how every dollar of their money is spent.

I am 53 years old, a native of Lawrence county, having lived all my life at Martha postoffice where farming and merchandising was my business. I moved to Louisa last year mainly because my son and son-in-law desired to locate there.

—MERIDETH B. SPARKS.

Why You Should Vote For M. B. Sparks

Merideth B. Sparks, candidate for County Judge, is one of the safest, best business men in Lawrence county. That is exactly the kind of man the people must have at the head of affairs in order to get the worth of their money in roads and in the economical administration of affairs.

Taxes have been increased an heavily in the last two or three years by pushing up valuations and raising the rate that Lawrence county people are now paying one hundred thousand dollars a year in taxes. This immense sum of the people's hard-earned money needs a steady man of courage and excellent business judgment to sit in the highest place and guide and guard its expenditure. Mr. Sparks is that man. He will see that it is used to the best advantage, and he will publish every year a list showing how and where every dollar of it was spent. This has not been done for a few years in Lawrence county. The people are entitled to know what becomes of their money.

Mr. Sparks has a plan that he believes will keep the main roads of the county in passable condition almost if not entirely throughout the year, without any increase in taxes or any greater expenditures than at present. The value of such a system can scarcely be estimated and the people should welcome this opportunity with their heartiest support. Mr. Sparks is a gentleman in every way. He is not a partisan. No man stands more ready at all times to do a favor and help a worthy cause.

The county's business affairs are safe when a man like M. B. Sparks is County Judge. He can and will prevent the dishonest or foolish expenditure of money, and he will work to give the people the best possible results. Have you noticed that Mr. Sparks does not go around condemning a lot of people and making wild statements about what he will do? He is running on his own merits only, and has issued a short platform that he can carry out and which will bring fine results. He does not try to fool the people in any way.

Neither women nor men will ever have cause to regret casting their votes for M. B. Sparks.

A Republican Asks Votes for F. M. Vinson

CITY HEALTH DEPARTMENT
Columbus, Ohio.

October 30, 1921.

The Big Sandy News.
Dear Sirs:—Will you please print the following letter for the benefit of my good people in good old Lawrence county as well as Carter and Elliott. When I was with you this I command, "You, 'Tie that should not work and work with a principle, should not eat' and now there is one walking among you that is not working at all, but is a busy body and he calls himself a lawyer. He may be but it should be spelled with a small l. for when I was home among my good people in June I saw things existing that have been going on for years, POLITICS, and it is running you, my people, in debt every year. Mr. W. T. Cain is a candidate for the high office of Commonwealth's Attorney and in June and September terms of court he had cases laid over that should have been tried, in order to gain a few votes, and you have only to search the records of our good Clerk to find them out, and this thing has been practiced by this one man for years and it will continue to be a practice with him as long as he is a candidate, and you, my good people, should let him know with your vote at the election next Tuesday that you are tired of this kind of practice, by voting for Mr. Fred M. Vinson for this high office and put a man in that will prosecute regardless of politics or personal feeling of any kind, and a boy of our own county, too, for you will know that Mr. Cain is from Martin county and should not be compared with a man of the high record that Mr. Fred M. Vinson has.

Further if Mr. James Adams could be here for a short time only I have an idea he would say don't vote for Bill Cain for he is the only man ever reprimanded me, and then without a cause, but his spirit has flown some years ago, and W. T. Cain is still reprimanding the good people of our county that he is not the attorney for, and he has practiced this for years and it looks like he is going to continue to do so, but let him get his own clients. Don't elect him to the office of trust, for which he asks.

Now friends I am a republican, the same as I ever was, but not the kind Bill Cain is, for he is a candidate for office and will do almost anything to gain a few votes, so get busy and elect a real man.

Vote for Fred M. Vinson next Tuesday.
Wm. H. C. THOMPSON, Inspector.

Smart Accessories for the Autumn Costume

If you experience the same care and thoughtfulness in the selection of the various accessories of dress as you do in the more important items of apparel, you show both good taste and judgment. Often the most expensive costume is cheapened by carelessly chosen "small things." If you are familiar with our displays of the various essentials to correct attire, you have no doubt full confidence in their proper relation to the apparel they are designed to be worn with.

Walter A. Arrington Makes Another Affidavit

State of Kentucky
Lawrence County, Sec.

Personally appeared before me J. M. O'Bryan, a Notary Public in and for the county and state aforesaid Walter A. Arrington, who after being duly sworn according to law deposes and says in reply to an affidavit of D. B. Adams appearing in Big Sandy News of October 28, 1921 issue, in which the affiant Walter A. Arrington says that D. B. Adams states that one of the candidates met Walter A. Arrington near the city limits on Saturday and told Arrington that was the last day for filing certificates of nomination. But Mr. Adams failed to give said candidate's name.

The affiant, Walter A. Arrington, states that he did meet D. B. Adams on the town hill and had a short conversation with him and Mr. Cordie asked him if he had started home and the affiant Walter A. Arrington told him that he had, and Mr. Cordie told him to wait until he could go down to the court house and we would go out home together. The affiant further states that he did not ask Mr. Cordie what business he had at the court house and that Mr. Cordie did not tell him his business, nor did he say anything about filing certificates of nomination. The affiant further states that the above conversation was in the presence of George Carter (Millard Carter's son) of Yatesville, Ky., and Lyman Riley of Louisa.

The affiant states that Mr. Cordie overtook him and that they came out together and that after they had got about 7 or 8 miles out of Louisa Mr. Cordie asked the affiant if he had filed his election certificate and he told Mr. Cordie he had not, that he thought he had until 20 days before the election to file them in, and Mr. Cordie said he did not know and that he had filed his papers that day, or that Cain's boy filed them for him.

The affiant, Walter A. Arrington, further states that the above conversation was on Saturday and the 46th day prior to the election and that he had no information whatever that that was the last day for the filing election papers until Sunday evening J. L. Hewlett came to his house and told him that the time for filing had passed.

WALTER A. ARRINGTON.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 31st day of October, 1921.
J. M. O'BRYAN, Notary Public.
My commission expires March 2, 1922.

THE COUNTY SURVEYOR'S OFFICE IS IMPORTANT

Knowing something about the excellent work done by L. E. Wallace as County Surveyor I feel that it would be only right to let the people of Lawrence county know it also. This is a more important office than most people realize, especially so far as the land owners and oil people are concerned.

Mr. Wallace is the first surveyor who has kept records of all surveys of ponds, division of farms, maps, etc. Within two years after he came into office, he made a map of Lawrence county, being the first county map made in the 100 years since the county was formed. The oil development has been greatly helped by these and also special farm maps made by Mr. Wallace. He made the first map of the city of Louisa ever placed on sale.

Mr. Wallace gives attention to all the duties of his office and answers all calls for surveys promptly. Mr. Wallace is a candidate for re-election on the Democratic ticket on November 8th and it would be a mistake to not elect him.

A VOTER.

Statement from Carter Co. Republican Committee

Grayson, Ky., Oct. 29, 1921.

Republican Voters of Lawrence County:—We, the Republican Executive Committee of Carter county, having heard that a report is being circulated thru Lawrence county that the Republicans of Carter county are not solidly behind Hon. W. T. Cain, candidate for Commonwealth's attorney in this, the 32nd Judicial District. We wish to take this method of saying to the people of Lawrence county that things look good here in this county, and it is believed by all the leaders here from the various precincts that said Cain will carry the full strength of the Republican party, and there is no reason why he should not, for this is the first time in the history of the district that we have had an opportunity to elect both a Republican Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney.

We have in Carter county a republican majority normally of from 1500 to 1800, and we firmly believe that W. T. Cain, candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney will carry the county by a full majority, because it is conceded by every Republican here that he will lead the ticket in the coming November election. He is thoroughly qualified and is a lawyer of considerable ability and a splendid mixer and a plain man and just the kind of a man for Commonwealth's Attorney.

Respectfully yours,
J. M. FLANNERY, Chairman.
KARL D. MALONE Secretary.

A Million School Children In Kentucky Cry Out To You

Our existing educational system is old, obsolete and rendered inefficient by the manner in which our political system compels its administration. Progress has outgrown it. Other states have made the change and improved their educational systems 100 per cent by it. Kentucky children deserve no less.

This advertisement is paid for by patriotic Democratic and Republican men and women of Kentucky who want the million school children of Kentucky to enjoy the benefits of an educational system equal to other states.

CARTER-RUNYON.

Miss Della Carter, the beautiful daughter of Mrs. Dock Carter of Ellen, was united in marriage to Mr. Taylor Runyon of Williamson, W. Va., at 10 o'clock Thursday morning at the Christian church of Ashland, Ky. Dr. Scott used the impressive ring ceremony.

Owing to the death of the bride's twin sister, Mrs. Celsus Wheeler, the wedding was a quiet affair. The only attendants were the bride's most intimate friends, Miss Eunice Conway and Mr. Celsus Wheeler, brother-in-law of the bride.

The bride is very attractive and popular in her circle of friends both in Louisa and Ashland while the groom is a very prosperous young gentleman. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Allen Miller of Ashland.

The bride never looked quite so lovely as on her wedding day attired in a very becoming suit of blue broadcloth with accessories to match her flowers, white carnations and lilies of the valley. Immediately after the ceremony the wedding party proceeded to Kenova where they had dinner at the hotel.

The bride and groom left on their honeymoon for Chicago and eastern points.

Will be at home November 10, at Williamson, W. Va., where a nicely furnished home is awaiting them. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Runyon join in wishing them a long and happy life.

THE "HOME TOWN PAPER"

The "Home Town Paper" is everywhere receiving the eulogies of the great. Listen to the words of Dean A. R. Mann, of the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell University:

"The home town paper as an aid to community consciousness and development, deserves the support of all who believe in the highest possibilities of rural life. No one familiar with the great good done by the country press—a journalistic institution peculiar to the United States—can be indifferent to its continued successful service to rural affairs."

"For the past half-dozen years the college of agriculture has consistently tried to help the country papers in New York because it believes in them and in their mission. THERE IS NO OTHER COMMUNITY INSTITUTION OR ACTIVITY WHICH IS NOT IN SOME MEASURE SERVED BY, AND IN A DEGREE DEPENDENT UPON, THE LOCAL NEWSPAPER, when that paper is a going concern, as it should be. Since the college believes in whole-hearted support for the home town paper, it is glad to give every encouragement to the home town paper week."

"New York's country papers are rendering conspicuous service to the interest of farm and home, and they deserve the support of all those who believe in these two great bulwarks of the best in American civilization."

Are you supporting yourself, your business and this town's interests, economically, morally, educationally and spiritually, by supporting your "Home Town Paper?"

We ask for your subscription.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

A COLUMN DEDICATED TO TIRED MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE AT EVENING TIDE.

In no country is it more important to have good manners than in our own, and yet there is a great deficiency and care and instruction in this particular. Sometimes we censure girls for laughing loudly in public, yet if they have never been taught otherwise how can we blame them? Sometimes a girl will get on a crowded street car and make such caustic remarks that one man will finally feel compelled to give her his seat. We are not excusing him. Perhaps he should have done so in the first place, but the girl certainly cheapened herself and gave an unpleasant display of her disposition.

Good manners are not in the least difficult to cultivate. They mean nothing more than thoughtfulness for others. Contending too much for your rights stirs up the selfish feeling of others, while a readiness to yield them awakens generous sentiments and leads to mutual accommodations. The greater your advantages have been, the more polite and considerate you should be to others who are not so fortunate as to possess the opportunities you have had. If you wish to be well bred, you must carry your manners with you. Good breeding is not a thing that can be laid aside and put on at pleasure. True politeness is accompanied by the calm self-possession which belongs to a noble simplicity of purpose, and unless you cultivate it and exercise it upon all occasions and toward all persons it will never be a part of yourself.

Correct Speaking.

One of the most pleasing things in young people is the habit of correct speaking. Let us advise all our young readers to acquire it in early life. The longer you live the more difficult the acquisition of correct language is; and if the golden age of youth, the proper season for the acquisition of language is passed in abuse, the unfortunate victim, is very properly doomed to talk slang all his life. Money is not necessary to procure this education. Every one has it in his power. He has merely to use the language which he hears, instead of the slang which he hears, to form his tastes from the best poets and authors of the country, to treasure up choice between phrases in his memory, and habituate himself to their use, avoiding at the same time, that pedantic precision and bombast which show the weakness of vain ambition rather than the polish of an educated mind.

We are taught so many things in this world—science, literature, history. Our school curriculum are full of the things that others have learned, yet not one word teaches us how to live and most of us spend our entire life running about like frightened sheep trying to learn and a lot of us die without finding out. We use all our energy doing and have none left for thinking or for being happy. How much better it would be if we could learn to go a little slower and stop and get our bearings every day.

THE OLD LOG FIRE-PLACE.

How well I recollect it, from childhood's happy days, we gathered there around it, an' enjoyed its cheery blaze. . . . The back-log's ponderosity best blessin's to enjoy—the forestiek and the fillin' charmed th' happy girl an' boy. . . . An' the smoke that up the chimney, wove its fitful, dreamy wreath, seemed playin' movie-phantoms to the embers underneath.

I recall the fairy-plecters that abounded in the glow of that plain, old-fashioned fire-place, that my child-hood used to know—and they seemed to dance an' smile at me, from out the golden flame, till I mightily high concluded that I knowed 'em all by name. . . . It's curious, how they came again, when a feller's eyes is set, bringin' back the old home fire-place, that a feller can't forget!

It gripped my youthful heart-strings with a super-sized content, which never has forsok me through the journey I have went,—and the most profoundest pleasures which I now and then enjoy, is to conjure back them visions, which I looked on when a boy, an' to see 'em monopolize 'em, as a feller will, you know, that loves the old log fire-place of the precious long ago.

Yon young feller John.

PRaises FROM THE GREAT FOR THE "HOME TOWN PAPER"

The "Home Town Paper" is everywhere receiving the eulogies of the great. Listen to the words of Dean A. R. Menn, of the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell University:

"The home town paper as an aid to community consciousness and development, deserves the support of all who believe in the highest possibilities of rural life. No one familiar with the great good done by the country press—a journalistic institution peculiar to the United States—can be indifferent to its continued successful service to rural affairs."

"For the past half-dozen years the college of agriculture has consistently tried to help the country papers in New York because it believes in them and in their mission. THERE IS NO OTHER COMMUNITY INSTITUTION OR ACTIVITY WHICH IS NOT IN SOME MEASURE SERVED BY, AND IN A MORE OR LESS DEPENDENT UPON, THE LOCAL NEWSPAPER, when that paper is a going concern, as it should be. Since the college believes in whole-hearted support for the home town paper, it is glad to give every encouragement to the home town paper week."

"New York's country papers are rendering conspicuous service to the interest of farm and home, and they deserve the support of all those who believe in these two great bulwarks of the best in American civilization."

Are you supporting yourself, your business and this town's interests, economically, morally, educationally and spiritually, by supporting your "Home Town Paper?"

We ask for your subscription.

THE OLD LOG FIRE-PLACE.

How well I recollect it, from childhood's happy days, we gathered there around it, an' enjoyed its cheery blaze. . . . The back-log's ponderosity held blessing's to enjoy—the forestick and the fillin' charmed th' happy girl an' boy. . . . An' the smoke that up the chimney, wove its fitful, dreamy wreath, seemed playin' movie-phantoms to the embers underneath.

I recall the fairy-figures that abounded in the glow of that plain, old-fashioned fire-place, that my child-hood used to know—and they seemed to dance an' smile at me, from out the golden flame, till I mighty nigh concluded that I knowed 'em all by name. . . . It's curious, how they came again, when a feller's eyes is shet, bringin' back the old home fire-place, that a feller can't forget!

It gripped my youthful heart-strings with a super-sized content, which never has forsook me through the journey I have went,—and the most profoundest pleasures which I now and then enjoy, is to conjure back them visions, which I looked on when a boy, an' to see 'em monopolize 'em, as a feller will, you know, that loves the old log fire-place of the precious long ago. . . .

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

A COLUMN DEDICATED TO TIRED MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE AT EVENING TIDE.

In no country is it more important to have good manners than in our own, and yet here there is a great deficiency and care and instruction in this particular. Sometimes we censure girls for laughing loudly in public, yet if they have never been taught otherwise how can we blame them? Sometimes a girl will get on a crowded street car and make such caustic remarks that one man will finally feel compelled to give her his seat. We are not excusing him. Perhaps he should have done so in the first place, but the girl certainly cheapened herself and gave an unpleasant display of her disposition.

Good manners are not in the least difficult to cultivate. They mean nothing more than thoughtfulness for others. Contending too much for your rights stirs up the selfish feeling of others, while a readiness to yield them awakens generous sentiments and leads to mutual accommodations. The greater your advantages have been, the more polite and considerate you should be to others who are not so fortunate as to possess the opportunities you have had. If you wish to be well bred, you must carry your manners with you. Good breeding is not a thing that can be discarded and put on at pleasure. True politeness is accompanied by the calm self-possession which belongs to a noble simplicity of purpose, and unless you cultivate it and exercise it upon all occasions and toward all persons it will never be a part of yourself.

Correct Speaking.

One of the most pleasing things in young people is the habit of correct speaking. Let us advise all our young readers to acquire it in early life. The longer you live the more difficult the acquirement of correct language is; and if the golden age of youth, the proper season for the acquisition of language is passed in idleness, the unfortunate victim, is very properly doomed to talk slang all his life. Money is not necessary to procure this education. Every one has it in his power. He has merely to use the language which he hears, instead of the slang which he hears to form his tastes from the best poets and authors of the country, to treasure up choice between phrases in his memory, and habituate himself to their use, avoiding at the same time, that pedantic precision and bombast which show the weakness of vain ambition rather than the polish of an educated mind.

We are taught so many things in this world—science, literature, history. Our school curriculums are full of the things that others have learned, yet not one word teaches us how to live and most of us spend our entire life running about like frightened sheep trying to learn and a lot of us die without finding out. We use all our energy doing and have none left for thinking or for being happy. How much better it would be if we could learn to go a little slower and stop and get our bearings every day.

Salters, Lively and Pence to be Tried December 12

Welch, Nov. 1.—A continuance to December 12 was granted this afternoon by Judge Strother in the criminal court of McDowell county in the case of C. E. Lively, Buster Pence and William Salters, who are charged with killing Sid Hatfield and Ed Chambers. Counsel for the defense moved that the trial be set over until the January term on the joint ground that there were a number of witnesses subpoenaed by the defense who could not be brought to court during the present term and that the condition of William Salters was such that he might not be able to appear in court.

The case, originally set for October 27, was continued from that date to November first, when it was shown that Salters was too ill at his home in War, W. Va., to attend court. This morning counsel for the defense informed the court that Salters had come to Welch yesterday for a conference with the attorneys and that while here he had become more ill and had been taken to the Welch hospital. Dr. Rutherford, superintendent of the hospital, so the counsel declared, had rendered an opinion that an immediate operation for the removal of the tonsils was necessary. This operation, so the court was informed, was in progress when the court opened this morning. Dr. Rutherford being called, substantiated the claims of the defense and the court granted a continuance to the third week in December. No one but the defendants, witnesses, court officials and newspaper men were allowed in the court room. The usual procedure of "thinking" each man who appeared for confederated weapons was carried out by deputies at the court room door under the direction of Sheriff Hill Hatfield. Neither Mrs. Hatfield or Mrs. Chambers appeared in the court room during the day but waited in the prosecuting attorney's office for developments in the case.

RED CROSS WORKING FOR HEALTHIER U. S.

Thousands Aided by Instruction
In Care of the Sick, Food Selection and First Aid.

How the American Red Cross guides thousands of persons to health is shown in a summary of the society's activities in the health field based upon the annual report for the last fiscal year. Through its Nursing Service, its Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick courses, nutrition classes, First Aid classes, Life-Saving classes and Health Centers and in numerous other ways designed to acquaint masses of citizens with proper methods of living, the Red Cross carried its message of health into all parts of the country.

The work of the Red Cross during the war in its traditional field of nursing, furnishing the military and naval establishments of the nation with 10,877 nurses, is well known. And there are today 37,737 nurses registered with the American Red Cross and subject to call in emergency. During the fiscal year, 1,551 Red Cross nurses were accepted for assignment to Government service, 388 by the Army and Navy and 1,163 by the United States Public Health Service.

In addition to the nurses enrolled by the Red Cross for Government service, the Red Cross itself employed a total of 1,343 public health nurses in the United States and Europe. By far the greatest number was employed in the United States, 1,257, while 86 were in foreign service.

Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick classes, giving thorough instruction in the proper care of the sick in instances where the illness is not so serious as to require professional nursing care, during the fiscal year numbered 5,170. A statistical picture of the Red Cross operations in this field follows:

New classes formed during year ..... 5,170
Classes completed during year ..... 6,290
New students enrolled ..... 101,098
Students completing course ..... 73,432

What the Red Cross accomplished in giving proper instruction through its Nutrition Service is indicated by the following table:

New classes formed during year ..... 142
Classes completed during year ..... 180
New students enrolled ..... 2,341
Students completing course ..... 2,018

In addition to the above, a total of 22,006 children were given instruction in the proper selection and preparation of foods.

Through its 200 Health Centers, the Red Cross reached 90,232 persons. In these Health Centers, 4,015 health lectures were given and 739 health exhibits held.

In the United States last year, 75,432 persons were killed and 3,500,000 injured in industrial accidents. To prevent this enormous waste the Red Cross held 5,100 first aid classes with a total of 104,000 students enrolled.

To help overcome conditions of acute distress in fire-famine-stricken provinces of Northern China, where millions of persons were affected by an unprecedented shortage of food, the American Red Cross during the last fiscal year spent more than $1,200,000, $1,000,000 of which was contributed directly by National Headquarters and the remainder by various groups interested in the welfare of China.

Through the wide relief operations thus made possible it is estimated that more than 600,000 famine sufferers were saved from starvation.

To the end that similar prompt relief measures by the organization may always be possible the Red Cross is asking continued support by the American people by universal renewal of membership at the Annual Red Cross Roll Call, November 11 to 24.

The method of relief employed by the American Red Cross in its operations in China was particularly effective, for in addition to saving hundreds of thousands of lives it provided China with more than 900 miles of permanent roads that are sorely needed to prevent recurrence of famine. At one time the Red Cross employed 74,000 Chinese workmen, paying them in food for themselves and dependents, this food being brought in from Manchuria and elsewhere.

Happy Hours for the Absent One

Remember Her Who Still Dreams of the "Old Home Town"

Scattered through the cities and states are hundreds of former residents of this community whose hearts are still with us. Their interests and their homes are in the far-away spot, but the fond recollections are of Louisa and Lawrence county.

Does mother, does father live in the next state, or the next, or perhaps away out there on the Pacific coast? What so easy for them to meet with the friends of old—the folks they know best and love most—as to take the home paper regularly? Not a copy now and then, but a welcome visitor every week? In your next letter, give them the benefit of this suggestion; or, if you like, send in a subscription for them as a pre-Thanksgiving gift.

Is Bill, or Joe, or Mildred off there in the crowded city where every one is for himself and old Nick take the hindmost? The paper from home REGULARLY EVERY WEEK will be a friend to him or her. It will call to his mind the fireplace, the scenes of people and joys of childhood, the better things of life. No young man or young woman in the city will go far wrong who is a regular reader of the news from the home community.

Come in and subscribe for the men and women and the boys and girls who have gone away from us, only temporarily, we hope.

If you cannot subscribe; if you think they would rather subscribe themselves, send them a copy of this paper with this editorial marked.

Or send us their names and we will take care of it for you.

WE WILL HELP YOU TO BRING JOY TO THAT ABSENT ONE

The "Home Paper" is the fondest visitor to every city dweller thrown by circumstances among tall buildings and smoky stacks; thrown among new and untried friends.

As Thanksgiving approaches, you cannot give a more welcome gift to that boy or girl who is far away; that father and mother who have retired to distant parts; that friendly old neighbor who has gone to the city or to another state; than a year's subscription to the "old home" paper. It will mean an hour's joy, an hour's return, to fond recollections to him or her every week of the year—an every-week remembrance of you! And if you yourself are far from your home town, you ought to send your subscription to the paper that will give you the news of the old town.

If you think your boy or girl or friend would rather subscribe himself, mark this piece and mail the paper to him. Or send us the name on the following coupon and we will do it for you:

DISASTER DEATH TOLL FOR ONE YEAR

Red Cross Gives $1,871,000 Relief When 65,000 Families Are Made Homeless.

Forty-three disasters, resulting in the death in the United States of 859 persons and the injury of 2,500 called for emergency relief measures and the expenditure of $1,871,000 by the American Red Cross during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921, says an announcement based upon the forthcoming annual report of the Red Cross. These disasters caused property damage estimated at $30,000,000, affected sixty-seven communities and rendered 65,000 families homeless.

The year's disasters were of varying types, including several which previously had never been thought of as falling within that classification. The Red Cross furnished relief in seventeen fires of magnitude, five floods, seven tornadoes or cyclones, one devastating storm, three explosions, including the one in Wall street; one building accident, two typhoid epidemics, the most serious being that at Salem, Ohio, which affected 9 per cent of the population; one smallpox epidemic, in the republic of Haiti; one train wreck, the race riot at Tulsa, Okla.; the famine in China, emergency relief in famine among the Indians of Alaska, the grasshopper plague in North Dakota and an earth quake in Italy.

Pueblo Most Serious

By far the most severe of the disasters in the United States during the period covered by the Red Cross report was the Pueblo flood early in June, 1921. The rehabilitation problem confronting the Red Cross in Pueblo was one of the most difficult in recent years. When the first news of the horror was flashed throughout the country, the American Red Cross National Headquarters responded with a grant of $105,000 for relief work. Governor Shoup of Colorado, appreciating the long and successful experience of the Red Cross in organizing disaster relief work, placed the entire responsibility for the administration of relief in its hands.

In response to appeal from President Harding, Governor Shoup and other governors of western states and through local chapters of the Red Cross and other community organizations, public-spirited citizens brought total contributions for Pueblo's rehabilitation to more than $325,000. The terrible havoc wrought by the waters is a matter of record. More than 2,800 homes were affected, 7,350 persons were left homeless, and $500,000 as an absolute minimum for rehabilitation were made Red Cross officials in charge of the work.

Fast Work in Wall Street

Wall street explosion was noted that relief workers of the Red Cross were on the scene twenty minutes after the disaster occurred. The relief work at Tulsa also was unique in relief annals in that outside emergency relief fund contributed by the Red Cross, the only measures outside the city contributed to the service of social workers and a trained executive staff was to assist local forces in their own efforts. In contrast with the previous, only one tornado assumed portions of a major disaster. It occurred on April 15, in the borderlands of Texas and Arkansas. The city of Texarkana as the significant feature of this relief work was the fact that it so much rural territory as necessary a large number of relief workers.

Keeps Up Its Machinery

In connection with the administration of relief measures, an effectiveness on the part of the Red Cross to deal with emergencies manifested during the past year. ### Salters, Lively and Pence to be Tried December 12

Welch, Nov. 1.—A continuance to December 12 was granted this afternoon by Judge Strother in the criminal court of McDowell county in the cases of C. E. Lively, Buster Pence and William Salters, who are charged with killing Sid Hatfield and Ed Chambers. Counsel for the defense moved that the trial be set over until the January term on the joint ground that there were a number of witnesses subpoenaed by the defense who could not be brought to court during the present term and that the condition of William Salters was such that he might not be able to appear in court.

The case, originally set for October 27, was continued from that date to November first, when it was shown that Salters was too ill at his home in War, W. Va., to attend court. This morning counsel for the defense informed the court that Salters had come to Welch yesterday for a conference with the attorneys and that while he had become more ill and had been taken to the Welch hospital. Dr. Rutherford superintendent of the hospital, so the counsel declared, had rendered an opinion that an immediate operation for the removal of the tonsils was necessary. This operation, so the court was informed, was in progress when the court opened this morning. Dr. Rutherford being called, substantiated the claims of the defense and the court granted a continuance to the third week in December. No one but the defendants, witnesses, court officials and newspaper men were allowed in the court room. The usual procedure of "fixing" each man who appeared for confessed weapons was carried out by deputies at the court room door under the direction of Sheriff Bill Hatfield. Neither Mrs. Hatfield or Mrs. Chambers appeared in the court room during the day but waited in the prosecuting attorney's office for developments in the case.

RED CROSS WORKING FOR HEALTHIER U. S.

Thousands Aided by Instruction in Care of the Sick, Food Selection and First Aid.

How the American Red Cross guides thousands of persons to health is shown in a summary of the society's activities in the health field based upon the annual report for the last fiscal year. Through its Nursing Service, its Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick courses, nutrition classes, First Aid classes, Life-Saving classes and Health Centers and in numerous other ways designed to acquaint masses of citizens with proper methods of living, the Red Cross carried its message of health into all parts of the country.

The work of the Red Cross during the war in its traditional field of nursing, furnishing the military and naval establishments of the nation with 19,877 nurses, is well known. And there are today 37,787 nurses registered with the American Red Cross and subject to call in emergency. During the fiscal year, 1,551 Red Cross nurses were accepted for assignment to Government service, 388 by the Army and Navy and 1,163 by the United States Public Health Service.

In addition to the nurses enrolled by the Red Cross for Government service, the Red Cross itself employed a total of 1,348 public health nurses in the United States and Europe. By far the greatest number was employed in the United States, 1,257, while 91 were in foreign service.

Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick classes, giving thorough instruction in the proper care of the sick in instances where the illness is not so serious as to require professional nursing care, during the fiscal year numbered 5,179. A statistical picture of the Red Cross operations in this field follows:

New classes formed during year	5,179
Classes completed during year	6,290
New students enrolled	101,098
Students completing course	73,432

What the Red Cross accomplished in giving proper instruction through its Nutrition Service is indicated by the following table:

New classes formed during year	142
Classes completed during year	180
New students enrolled	2,341
Students completing course	2,013

In addition to the above, a total of 22,006 children were given instruction in the proper selection and preparation of foods.

Through its 260 Health Centers, the Red Cross reached 90,232 persons. In these Health Centers, 4,015 health lectures were given and 780 health exhibits held.

In the United States last year, 75,432 persons were killed and 3,600,000 injured in industrial accidents. To prevent this enormous waste the Red Cross held 5,100 first aid classes with a total of 104,000 students enrolled.

RED CROSS RESCUED 600,000 FROM DEATH

Spent $1,200,000 for Relief of Famine Sufferers in China Last Year.

To help overcome conditions of acute distress in five famine stricken provinces of Northern China, where millions of persons were affected by an unprecedented shortage of food, the American Red Cross during the last fiscal year spent more than $1,200,000, of which was contributed directly by National Headquarters and the remainder by various groups interested in the welfare of China. Through the wide relief operations thus made possible it is estimated that more than 600,000 famine sufferers were saved from starvation. To the end that similar prompt relief measures by the organization may always be possible the Red Cross is asking continued support by the American people by universal renewal of membership at the Annual Red Cross Roll Call, November 11 to 24. The method of relief employed by the American Red Cross in its operations in China was particularly effective, for in addition to saving hundreds of thousands of lives it provided China with more than 900 miles of permanent roads that are sorely needed to prevent a recurrence of famine. At one time the Red Cross employed 74,000 Chinese workmen, paying them in food for themselves and dependents, this food being brought in from Manchuria and elsewhere.

Happy Hours for the Absent One

Remember Her Who Still Dreams of the "Old Home Town"

Scattered through the cities and states are hundreds of former residents of this community whose hearts are still with us. Their interests and their homes are in the far-away spot, but the fond recollections are of Louisa and Lawrence county.

Does mother, does father live in the next state, or the next, or perhaps away out there on the Pacific coast? What so easy for them to meet with the friends of old—the folks they know best and love most—as to take the home paper regularly? Not a copy now and then, but a welcome visitor every week? In your next letter, give them the benefit of this suggestion; or, if you like, send in a subscription for them as a pre-Thanksgiving gift.

WE WILL HELP YOU TO BRING JOY TO THAT ABSENT ONE

The "Home Paper" is the fondest visitor to every city dweller thrown by circumstances among tall buildings and smoky stacks; thrown among new and untold friends.

As Thanksgiving approaches, you cannot give a more welcome gift to that boy or girl who is far away; that father and mother who have retired to distant parts; that friendly old neighbor who has gone to the city or to another state; than a year's subscription to the "old home" paper. It will mean an hour's joy, an hour's return to fond recollections to him or her every week of the year—an every-week remembrance of you! And if you yourself are far from your home town, you ought to send your subscription to the paper that will give you the news of the old town.

If you think your boy or girl or friend would rather subscribe himself, mark this place and mail the paper to him. Or send in the name on the following coupon and we will do it for you:
